

Privacy Policy

We commit ourselves here at 47 Dental Care to ensuring that the privacy of our patients is protected at all costs. We comply by the standards set out by the General Dental Council and those stated in the 1998 Data Protection Act.

Personal patient information will only be shared with other doctors or health care professionals, hospitals, NHS authorities, the Benefits Agency or private dental schemes if the patient is a member. In occasional circumstances, the patient's information may be shared with a party not involved with the patient's care but we will first seek written consent from the patient, unless it is required by law that we share this information.

Patient's data which is electronically stored is encrypted and only sent via secure methods. Paper records are stored in a locked filing cabinet.

Patients are entitled to see their records free of charge, but should they wish to obtain a hard copy of their records this may incur a charge, once the request for the records have been made we will endeavour to provide you with a copy within 40 days.
